

RISING TIDE[®]
Foundation for Clinical
Cancer Research

Rising Tide Group is an organization with a strong philanthropic mission and ranks among the top 100 foundations in Switzerland. It is based in Schaffhausen, having a truly global reach in its activities. The group consists of two foundations – the Rising Tide Foundation and the Rising Tide Foundation for Clinical Cancer Research, both supported by Rising Tide GmbH. The foundation assets ensure a sustainable income generation over the next decades, so that the foundation activities are not dependent on fundraising.

Make a positive contribution to society with your next career move!

We offer a stable, collegial and close-knit work environment, where our talent from diverse background is empowered to take risks and approach challenges unconventionally. With a multicultural workforce comprising international leaders and specialists known for their intellectual and analytical rigor, we are a team of creative pioneers with a common thirst for success, and relentless in our drive to generate sustainable value for cancer patients globally.
